Career Summary:

Following a 4 1/2 year 'sandwich' course in Civil engineering I graduated from The City University with a BSc in Civil Engineering. The 35 years of my career to date have almost exclusively been spent in the highway sector. I have always worked for service providers and have been part of the necessary transition of these companies from pure contractor to providers of an integrated service.

My early years were spent on new build motorway contracts, predominately the latter stages of the M25. In 1997 I moved to the highway maintenance sector and started off running one of the first tranche of HA superagency contracts. For the last 15 years I have worked exclusively with local authorities in the provision of their highway maintenance service through a variety of forms of contract.

I thoroughly enjoyed my previous term on Council, and am still actively involved on the Procurement & Delivery Panel. I would relish another term and look forward to again giving something back to an industry that has fed and watered me all my working life.
